LAB RULES

Faculty & participants will speak honestly and authentically about their personal and professional journeys. Many faculty members hold senior positions in large companies and will share fascinating, inspiring and very real insights from their intrapreneurial experiences. In exchange for their openness, please keep what you hear inside the 4 walls of the Lab

Tweet away & use the hashtag #socint – we want everyone to know about intrapreneurship. But in keeping with the above, please don't tweet direct quotes from faculty members without permission first – we don't want to get anyone into any trouble

Presentations will be audio-recorded but Q&A and discussion will not be. Some content may be referenced in articles but no material will be used without prior permission

The Mentors' Den sessions, where participants discuss details of their projects are confidential. These will not be recorded or their content referenced in any form

Lab Director: Milan Samani, Leadership Laboratories

9:10AM Inside the Intrapreneur's Studio
Graham Simpson, Head of Therapeutic Peptide Chemistry Performance Unit and Intrapreneur behind Low-cost Diagnostics for Africa in conversation with Milan Samani
Followed by Q&A and discussion
Inspired by some powerful life-experiences in Kenya as part of GSK's PULSE Volunteer Placement programme, Graham returned home with an idea to develop cheap, paper-based diagnostics for life-threatening yet easily treatable diseases. He went on to win the first League of Intrapreneurs prize and was voted one of the 100 most influential people in big pharma. But the journey of an intrapreneur is rarely smooth and Graham shares some of his experiences and insights
